

Frequently Asked Questions

When my dog gets home from his stay, he acts very hungry and thirsty. Should I feed him and give him water right away?

NO, do not give your dog water or food immediately upon returning home. Your dog will be happy and very excited to see you. Excitement causes your dog to pant more. Panting will make your dog thirsty. Offer a few ice cubes instead of a bowl of water. It is very important for you not to feed or give large amounts of water for at least 3 hours upon returning home. Gulping water and food coupled with excitement may cause digestive problems such as vomiting, diarrhea, or bloat. Bloat is fatal if not treated immediately as an emergency. For more information on bloat visit our FAQ page on the web

My dog sleeps for a day or two after coming home. Is this normal?

Yes, this is normal. There is more activity throughout the day here than at home. Even though your dog sleeps at night, he/she is awake most of the day, instead of curled up on your favorite sofa at home, while you are at work.

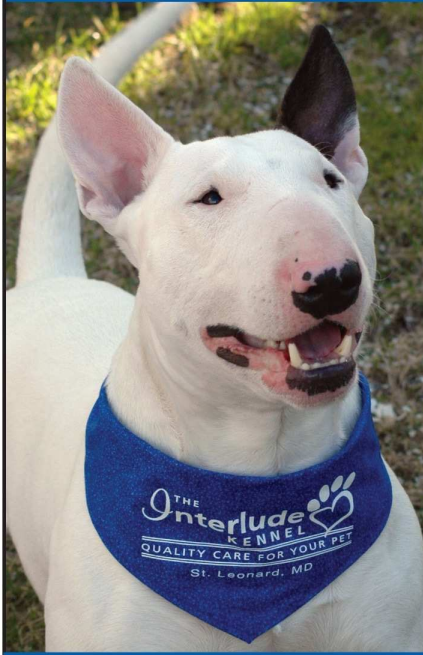

Are the rooms air conditioned and heated during the appropriate months?

Yes. All of our accommodations are fully heated & air conditioned.

3. My pet requires oral medications, wound treatments, or injections. Can you accommodate pets such as these?

Yes, our staff has been trained in giving medications and applying treatments to
